

PECHARMANT MANSART

Chateau La Renaudie Red

Region: South West

Appellation: AOC Pecharmant

General Description

This XVIIIth century castle is situated in the town of Lembras, 6 km from Bergerac. Built on the top of a hill, it dominates the region and offers an unforgettable setting, between vineyards and forests.

The Pécharmant, its appellation contrôlée vineyard, faces south and covers 40 hectares. The ground rich in iron gives to this vin de garde a subtle bouquet, and its incomparable taste makes it one of the finest products of the Dordogne.

This vineyard of 40 hectares in a single plot represents 10 % of the whole production of red wine of the AOC Pécharmant. This wine has been produced in the region since the XVIIth century.

Vineyards are 30 years old on average ("the age of maturity").

Wine Tasting Notes

Lively ruby in colour.

The nose reveals flowers, blackcurrant, spices, and honey.

Following fresh attack, mouth reveals tense minerals. Nicely balanced and homogenous. Very elegant. Preserves freshness with right body.

A wine with aspirations of great wines.
